Get all your questions answered with
Systematic Training for Effective Parenting
And
Raising a Jewish Child in a Not Very Jewish World

As a caring parent, you have probably asked yourself many times:

- Why is my child doing this?
- What's the best way to discipline?
- How do I help my child cooperate?
- How can I build self-esteem in my child?
- How do I talk so my child will listen?
- How can I help my child deal with his/her friends?
- How can I help my child be proud to be Jewish?
- What do I tell him/her about his/her non Jewish friends and neighbors?
- How do I help my child blend his/her Jewish identity with his/her American identity?

In eight sessions, you will learn helpful techniques to improve family communication and to encourage cooperation, effective discipline strategies that promote both self-esteem and mutual respect. You will also learn how to navigate your way as a Jewish parent in a non-Jewish world. The lives of over 4,000,000 parents have already been enriched by this wonderful program. You can join them!
